The foreign element have been celebrating Easter Monday in the mining section and much liquor has been used. The streets have been thronged all day with a boisterous crowd, but no sign of trouble appeared until to-night. A body of strikers were assembled in front of the Windher jail discussing the 1788 meeting that had been held during the afternoon, and which had been addressed by three Catholic priests. The discussion grew into argument, and soon there was a free for all right,

Many of the miners had been drinking and the sight of the deputy made many of them furious. The officer was quickly surrounded by maddened miners, who threatened to kill him. McMullen, realizing that his situation was desperate, fied for his life.

Other deputies who had been on duty guarding the property of the coal company were notified of the rioters were landed in the lock-up at Whadber. The mob, headed by Paul Zills, then planned an assault on the jall, with the purpose of releasing the prisoners. A great crowd of the strikers, with Zills at their head, marched to the center of the town and propared to storm the jall. The deputy sheriffs fixed the bayonets to their rifles and surrounded the jall to keep it from the mol's possession. If possible. At a signal the mob began to close in on the jall, shouting to the deputies to throw sway their guns and give up the prisoners.

SPEECH CAUSES BIG SENSATION

Many Believe President Is Now Seeking Third Term.

WHAT HAY AND MARTIN THINK

Virginia Senator Declares Bryan is Less Radical Than Roose velt-Republicans Almost Unanimous Against Inheritance Tax Proposition.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.) nent excited by the President's muck rake" speech Saturday is general it is hard to find a Democrat or Republian who has not something to say concan who has not something to say con-cerning the Persident's declaration for a tax on inheritances, levied by the gen-eral government. There is little talking for publication, and so far as knewn Senator Tillman is the only Democratic senator who has indorsed the proposi-tion, which is quite different from the proposal to tax incomes. The Democratic passed the income tax, and the Supremo-Count decided, the law to be unconstinhig private property for public use with-out just compensation. It isn't worth while to discuss the wisdom of such a law; the courts would declare it null, because it would be in abrogation of the e sentiment of the Republicans of two houses is thought to be prac-ly manimous against the inheritance lically manimous against the inheritance tax proposition. The Massachusetts del-egation, for instance, is a unit in oppos-ing such a tax, though the Republican delegation from this State has been lamoring all session for revision of tariff clamoring all session for revision of tariff schedules.

The President is going to send a tariff revision message to Congress in a short time. This fact is pregnant with meaning. Pollowing his declaration in favor of the inheritance tax, a doctring to which the Republican party is as greatly opposed as to tariff reform itself, the message is going to come dangerously near to splitting the party outright, and as nearly to the bottom as the Denocratic party was cleft by President Cleveland during his last term in the White House, when the free coinage of silver was forced to the front as the issue. The most ultra-radical, whether Democrat or Republican, has not gone as far beyond the outposts of his own party as Mr. Roosevelt has gone.

"Mr. Bryan is loss of a radical than President Roosevelt is," said Senator Martin to-day. "Mr. Bryan is honest, clean and particule, no matter whether everybody agrees with his views or not. I do not know whom I shall favor for the Democratic nomination for the presidency in 1948, but, whether we be for Mr. Revan as the conservative candidate or and forestall the most radically-inclined in his own party and that wing of the Democracy which wants Hearst nominated two years hence. The opinion that the President was only trying to scarce the multi-millionaires into supporting him either for another nomination or in carrying out present policies, is also expressed. His sincerity in advocating a law limiting the amount which a man may inherit or dispose of by will is questioned.

Senator Warner, of Missouri, is the only senator on the Republican stage with openly indorses the inheritance tax proposition. Plenty of Republican senators and members may be found who express the opinion that the proposition of the President is purely Socialistic. The convention of the Socialistic Party which nominating one pledged Socialists to work for "the graduated taxation of incomes and inheritances, to the end that aggregated wealth shall bear its just proportion of taxation."

wealth shall bear its jost proposalists, taxation."

A minority faction of the Socialists, known as the Socialist Labor energy, at a convention in New York in 196, adopted resolutions in which they demanded "a progressive income tax and a tax on inheritance, the small lacones to be exampled. empt."

Bryan Less Radical.

Bryan Less Radical,

The middle of the road Populists, at their convention in Chicinatt in 1996, adopted a platform which contained a plank demanding "the lavy and collection of a graduated tax on incomes and inheritances, and a constitutional amendment to secure the same if decessary."

There is speculation as to how many of the members of the cabinet hold the President's views as to a tax on inheritances. The Muck Rake speech was prepared with a great deal of care, and it is known that at least one member of the cubinet went over it. Whether he approved the inheritance tax proposition is not known.

The declaration of the President and the comments thereon, only serve to corroborate the truth of the statement made in this correspondence some days ago roborate the truth of the statement made in this correspondence some days ago that the belief that Mr. Brynn represents the most conservative sentiment of the Democratic party, and is less radical in his views than is Mr. Roosevell, the biggest man in the Republican party, is provident at Washington.
